

UNITING ON A GLOBAL SCALE

As the top networking organization leading in the real estate industry, the DBA has assisted in the creation of spectacular landmarks, distinctive residential communities and unique retail destinations, which have helped put some of the top companies firmly on the map as visionaries of the future.

After the challenges of the global financial crisis, confidence in the real estate market has returned and the DBA remains committed to being an integral part of the rising markets' ambitious expansion plans, building partnerships and bridging business ventures to create an exciting range of new projects that will enhance our communities and attract residents, tourists and investors to the fastest growing cities in the world.

The dedication of our staff is key to our success, and I thank my team of talented people who are turning the DBA's visions into reality. As our operations diversify from our core of business development, we continue to seize new opportunities that drive the growth of the nation as a whole, creating a solid legacy for future generations.

Reinforced by strategic alliances with exceptional partners, as well as the support of our Honorary Members and our commitment in implementing our skills, our success is closely linked with the evolution of today's industry marketplace and we are fully committed to playing a key role in the growth of this new era of development.
